READY FOR SOME NITTY GRITTY JOURNALISM?

THE INDIANA HIGH SCHOOL PRESS ASSOCIATION wants to make you an offer you can't refuse. Send us your editors for a four-day nitty gritty journalism bootcamp.

Sure, they'll love the energetic instructors and exposure to cutting edge publications. Sure, they'll complain because their days will end too quickly and their alarm clocks won't ring early enough. Sure, they'll make contacts that will expand their journalism knowledge and friendships. But in the end, they'll emerge lean, mean, editor machines.

COST

The IHSPA workshop has been designed to provide an optimum experience at a reasonable price, $250 per student or adviser for four activity-packed days. The workshop fee includes most meals and air-conditioned dormatory accommodations.

FORMAT

The student experience begins with people skills: working with diverse personalities, fostering team atmospheres, working in partnership with advisers, and conflict management. Then, students move to teaching/leadership skills every editor should know. Finally, your editors practice their team skills.

In one day, student teams will pull together an entire story package page, including stories based on actual interviews, digital photography and design based on Quark Xpress or Pagemaker.

This unique project has included daytrips to downtown Franklin and the Indianapolis Zoo in the past. This year, students will head to Nashville in Brown County to find their photos and stories.

2004 IHSPA SUMMER EDITORS' WORKSHOP • JUNE 14-17, FRANKLIN COLLEGE

REGISTRATION FORM

$250 per editor if returned by May 15

$275 per editor is returned after May 15

The IHSPA Summer Editors' Workshop is designed as a leadership workshop and is meant for newspaper, yearbook, and magazine staffers who take publications seriously. To ensure the workshop draws only students who occupy the top leadership positions on your staffs, the IHSPA must limit registrations to three students per high school staff – not per high school. Newspaper, yearbook, and magazine qualify as separate staffs. Please duplicate this form for a third staff member or additional staffs as needed.
